Junior Update

With junior and youth competitions recommencing this week after the Christmas break, I thought it opportune to dedicate this newsletter to our juniors. This season we are fielding teams in grade 3-4 (four teams), grade 4-5 (two teams), grade 5-6 (two teams), under 13 (two teams), under 15 (two teams) and under 17s. As well, we have a girls only under 15 team starting this week and ran under 13 girls clinics before Christmas.

We had 70 registrants for our In2cricket program. This represents an increase of 20% in numbers and indicates that cricket is as popular as ever at Clarence. I wish to thank all our coaches, scorers, umpires and supporters for doing such a tremendous job. We are all working together to give our children the opportunity to play cricket at the highest level possible. I, along with the majority of your committee, got involved through our children. If you feel you could contribute in some way to the running of the club, please feel free to call me or send an email to the club.

We need people to help us with tasks such as website management, membership management, organising social function, as well as all the cricketing aspects.

Please consider becoming involved as I can assure you the reward of seeing our young people develop makes it worthwhile.

News

Harry and Sam

Two of our 1st grade players, Harrison Allanby and Sam Rainbird (both pictured), were selected to attend the cricket centre of excellence as part of the national under 18 squad. Sam performed well with both bat and ball at the under 19 national carnival.

Harry competed in the under 19 and under 17 carnivals, winning the player of the tournament award in the under 17s. Alex Treanor also represented Tasmania in the under 17s carnival.

Girls Cricket

Paris Crowe and Emilia Kavanagh have represented the state in national girls competitions.

Under 12 Statewide

From our under 13s, Kyle Palmer-Hughes, Ned Absolom, Liam Devlin, Isaac Salter and Keegan Wylie were selected in the southern team.

Ned was captain of the team, which won the U/12 title. Isaac won the batting award and the MVP. Ned won the bowling award. Carter Hansen and Andre Witak were selected in the invitational side.

This is a fantastic representation from our club and credit must go to our under 13 coaches, Nic Hansen and Graham Absolom.

6 for 1

In a recent under 13 game against Oatlands, Kyle Palmer-Hughes had the incredible figures of 6 for 1 from three overs.
